

Wendy Martland

Chris Dewbury and Chris Cook

Steve Jepson

Georgina Manuel

The Macnabbers

The Field and Hunter Balmoral Macnab Challenge Dinner

COMPILED BY ALEXANDRA HENTON email alexandra_henton@ipcmedia.com

AT the beginning of December, a convivial group of Buchaneers joined Hunter and The Field at the Savile Club in Mayfair for the second Macnab Challenge Dinner. This season Macnabbers from Hong Kong, the US, Scotland, Wales and England converged to raise a glass "to blood" and be presented with the Macnab cuff-links.

Americans Joseph Thompson and John Fields Jr were already sporting the exclusive salmon and slot cuff-links from RightandLeft by dint of having chalked up a Macnab last year, too.

Field French 75 cocktails and delicious Pol Roger champagne fuelled the 10 Macnabbers, as they swapped their stories. The talk roamed from hill to stream to moor. Seven, including Editor Jonathan Young and Chris Dewbury of Hunter Boot, had got a Macnab from Gannochy estate. There was an impromptu conference call between the estate owner Allan Hemmings and the entire room - it was woodcock time, so he was unable to make the trip down.

A speech by the Editor, which thanked fellow sponsor Hunter Boot, and a well-received reply from Macnabber Campbell Whyte rounded off the evening. The Macnabbers made their way home in high, sporting spirits.

Noll Uloth and Rosie Dixon

John Fields Jr

Lizzie Kershaw and Nicole Escue

Jonathan Young

Claire Zambuni

Melanie and Arwyn Davies

Joe Thompson and Peter Bond

Helen Barbour

Campbell Whyte and Sarah Fitzpatrick

Mark Merison

Tessa Ferguson

Paul Martland

Claire Saunders

ANYA CAMPBELL